HUERTA OFFERS RESIGNATION: GARBAJAL IS NOW PRESIDENT

Mexican Dictator of Yesterday Will Flee From His Native Country

OVER A YEAR IN OFFICE

Downfall of Huerta Regime Has Long Been Expected by World

LEAVES CAPITOL TODAY

New President Will Soon Retire in Favor of General Carranza

Northern Revolution Has Proven a Success

Huerta and His Official Family Will Leave Mexico City for Coast This Morning, It is Said. Go to Vera Cruz.

Mexico City, July 15.—General Victoriano Huerta resigned from the provisional presidency of the Mexican republic tonight and his resignation was accepted by the Senate and Chamber of Deputies by a vote of 121 to 17.

Francisco Carbajal then was appointed president and took the oath of office at the joint session of the deputies and senators.

Huerta's resignation was submitted through the Department of Foreign Relations. It was read in the House and was greeted with cries of "Viva Huerta."

Then it was turned over to a joint committee. After a brief conference, the committee reported, accepting the resignation in the following terms:

"Article I. We accept the resignation of General Victoriano Huerta as President of the Mexican United States.

"Article II. We call Licentiate Francisco Carbajal, minister of foreign relations, to assume the presidency."

A ballot was taken and the joint session approved the report.

President Carbajal proceeded to the National Palace under an escort of presidential guards, and all along the way was greeted with cheering.

Text of Resignation.

The text of General Huerta's resignation follows:

"Deputies and Senators:

"Public necessity admitted by the Chamber of Deputies called me to the supreme ministry of the Republic. Later when in this same hall I had the honor of addressing you in compliance with the constitutional precept I promised at all costs to bring about peace.

"Seventeen months have passed and in that brief period of time I have formed an army with which to carry out that solemn promice. You know the immense difficulties which my government has encountered owing to a scarcity of funds, as well as to the manifest and decided protection which a great power of this continent has afforded to the rebels—so much so that when the revolution has been broken up, seeing that its chief leaders were and continued to be divided, the power in question sought a pretext to intervene directly in the conflict, and the result of this was the outrage committed at Vera Cruz by the American fleet.

"Success was had as you know in adjusting honorably through out delegates at Niagara Falls the petty Tampico incident, but the revolution continued with the support of whom we all know.

"Yet, after the highly patriotic work achieved by our delegates at Niagara Fall, there till are ome who say I, come what may, seek my personal interest and not that of the republic. And as I need to rebut this allegation with facts I tender my formal resignation of the presidency of the republic.

Strikes at United States.

"The National Congress must know that the Republic, through its government, has labored in entire good faith and with the fullest sincerity, having succeeded in doing away with the party which in the United States calls itself Democratic, and having shown how the right should be defended.

"To be more explicit, I will say that the action of the government of the Republic during its short life has dealt death blows to an unjust power. Later on, stronger workers will come, using implements that undoubtedly will end that power which has done so much harm and committed so many outrages on this continent.

"In conclusion I will say that I abandon the presidency of the Republic, carrying with me the highest sum of human wealth, for I declared that I have arraigned at the bar of universal conscience the honor of a puritan, whom I, as a gentleman, challenge to wrest from me that possession.

"May God bless you and me."

The galleries of the chamber of deputies were packed before the beginning of the session today.

Intense excitement characterized the reading, and at the close of the reading the deputies and spectators broke into loud applause.

After the acceptance of Huerta's resignation, a commission was appointed by the president of the chamber to escort Senor Carbajal to the door of the House.

Senor Carbajal walked to the plat-

"RETIRED PRESIDENT" VICTORIANO HUERTA, OF MEXICO.

WASHINGTON IS ELATED OVER HUERTA'S ACTION

Officials of the United States Predict Early Peace in Southern Republic, so Long Torn by Factional War—President Wilson and Secretary Bryan Overjoyed by the Prospect for Settlement of Mexican Troubles.

Washington, July 15.—News of General Huerta's resignation as provisional president of Mexico was hailed by official Washington tonight as the first practical step toward a quick solution of the Mexican problem. Constitutionalists, diplomats and officials of the United States were elated over General Huerta's voluntary withdrawal and predicted an era of peace in his country.

Although the Constitutionalists have declared they would not recognize Francisco Carbajal, as provisional president, and the United States government likewise will refuse to rocgnize him, the understanding here is that the new executive will hold office only until arrangements can be made for the entry of General Carranza, the Constitutionalist chief.

Desire General Amnesty.

Diplomats in close touch with the situation declare Carbajal and those who are associated with him in an effort to restore peace, desire only a general amnesty, conserving the lives and property of Huerta's supporters. With this obtained, the peaceful entry into the Mexican capital of Constitutionalist troops will be negotiated.

General Huerta's retirement came just as the Constitutionalists were preparing their formal note declining participation in informal conferences with Huerta to discuss internal Mexican questions.

Hopes were raised today that now negotiations may be begun between the representatives of Carbajal and Carranza for the speedy transfer of power to the Constitutionalists. It is virtually certain that the Huerta representatives at Niagara Falls will be designated by Carbajal to look after his interests in this country. That the mediators will make another effort to bring the factions into conference is considered likely.

General Carranza, the mediators believe, would profit greatly by entering into such conferences. He thus might guarantee himself immediate recognition by the United States and Argentina, Brazil and Chile. Under terms of the protocols signed at Niagara Falls, the United States promised to recognize any government set up by agreement between the Mexican factions without waiting for an election.

Urge Carranza to Yield.

Should Carranza refuse to parley with the Carbajal government and insist on taking Mexico City by force, setting up a military government recognition in all likelihood wuo lebd ognition in all likelihood would be deferred until after an election. Constitutionalists here are renewing their efforts to persuade Carranza to enter conferences with Carbajal, who many diplomats here think, would accept the plan of Guadaloupe which calls for the establishment of Carranza as provisional president.

In some quarters here it is believed Carbajal may try to have Huerta given immunity from arrest if he stays in Mexico City. The Huerta delegates in New York have tried to obtain guarantees for him, but even if given, friends of the dictator think he would be safest out of the country.

Huerta's resignation marks the culmination of more than a year's effort by the United States to force his retirement. John Lind was sent to Mexico last summer in an effort to bring about the dictator's withdrawal. President Wilson, later went to Congress and revealed the terms on which Huerta had been asked to retire. An embargo on arms was placed on both Mexican factions and the Washington government, then began its polic "of cutting off financial aid for the Huerta government, not only from the United States, but from Europe.

Huerta's resources slowly diminished under this procedure. The Constitutionalists aided by the moral support of the American government, pushed their military campaign to within striking distance of the capital. Realizing a military conquest of Mexco City was inevitable, Huerta finally yielded.

Revolution Has Triumphed.

With Huerta's retirement the Constitutionalists feel their revolution virtually has triumphed. They turned against him the moment he overthrew Madero, Constitutionalist president of Mexico, in February, 1913, and have waged their war with unrelenting vigor ever since.

The prospect of an early solution of the Mexican problem gave both President Wilson and Secretary Bryan much joy tonight. American forces will not be withdrawn from Vera Cruz until a stable government has been established in Mexico iCty and recognition has been accorded it. The feeling is general, however, that if Carranza gives guarantees to political offenders as well as the people generally, recognition wil be extended promptly by the United States and other nations of Central and South America, as well as Europe.

Incidentally Huerta's resignation now places Europe on an equal footing with the United States with respect to the authorities at Mexico City. The powers of Europe had recognized Huerta, but because of the pronounced attitude of the United States, they are expecttd to follow the lead of the American government before extending recognition to Carbajal or his successor.

HOLLIS AND REED IN HEATED DEBATE

Democratic Leaders in Senate Far From Agreement.

ON TRUST LEGISLATION

Some Administration Leaders Are Concerned for the Welfare of the Different Measures—Should be Combined.

Washington, July 15.—A spirited debate took place between Senator Hollis, of New Hampshire, and Senator Reed, of Missouri, over the Inter-State Trade Commission bill emphasizing the fact that administration leaders in the Senate still were far from an agreement on general principles of trust legislation.

The wide divergence of views was indicated further in Senate committees, the judiciary committee failing to perfect the Clayton bill, which it had expected to complete last Monday. The inter-State commerce committee again failed to resume consideration of the railroad securities bill and a member of the committee said no meeting could be held before Friday.

The difficulties senators are encountering in committees, together with the open disagreement as to principles evidenced on the floor, gave some administration leaders concern over the fate of the bills and strengthened a belief that the pending measures should be consolidated.

Favor Newlands Measure.

Senator Hollis today declared that the inter-State commerce committee favored the so-called Newlands measure, which would give the proposed trade commission power to prevent "unfair competition." He added that the judiciary committee believed an attempt should be made to define unfair practices.

Senator Borah asked what relief would be afforded small business men if the "halo of eternal wisdom for a moment should slip from the brow of the Federal Trade Commission," or if such business men as "Thomas D. Jones, nominated for the Federal Reserve Board, be appointed to the Federal Trade Commission."

Senator Hollis explained that the Federal Trade Commission would be given the power of policing trade with a view of making "the big fellows let the little fellows live."

He criticised Senator Reed for declining to offer amendments to the disputed section, saying this action indicated the senator was opposed to the entire bill.

Later Senator Reed declared Senator Hollis was his enemy and had distorted the facts of his previous speeches. He asserted that Senator Hollis' statement that the Supreme court would declare the bill unconstitutiona if too general and indefinite in phraseology was better suited for a meeting of anarchists than in the Senate.

Senator Borah opposed the trade commission bill as a final step to solve the trust problem by seeking to regulate monopolies. He declared as soon as the Supreme court entered the tobacco trust decree, a decree pronounced by him as one of the severest ever entered in the world, propaganda was started to get regulation of monopolies and thus avoid the effect of the Sherman law. When the Senate went into executive session the Idaho senator asserted he would resume his argument at another time.

SUDDEN CHANGE MADE IN SALISBURY POSTOFFICE

Ramsey Resigns, Boyden is Named and Confirmed

Former Postmaster Resigns of His Own Accord to Enter Private Business—Boyden Had Not Asked for Place.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Washington, D. C., July 15.—The President sent to the Senate today the nomination of Col. A. H. Boyden to be postmaster of Salisbury, succeeding James H. Ramsey, who has resigned to go into business for himself. Mr. Ramsey resigned of his own accord. He notified Senator Overman sometime ago that if he had been confirmed when nominated, his present term of four years would have expired today.

He told the junior senator that in view of this fact and of his desire to enter private life he would tender his resignation to take effect today, although his commission does not expire for six months. No word of Mr. Ramsey's resignation was given out for publication here until today, and few, if any, outside of the Postoffice Department, Senator Overman and the President, knew of Mr. Ramsey's resignation until Colonel Boyden's nomination was sent to the Senate.

An exception was made in Colonel Boyden's case and his nomination was confirmed without the usual course of being referred to the committee. It is believed here that the appointment of Colonel Boyden is the most

MRS. CARMAN MAY TELL HER STORY

Of the Bailey Murder at Her Husband's Office.

THREE MORE WITNESSES

Probe of the Grand Jury is Very Nearly Over—District Attorney is Opposed to Mrs. Carman's Going Before Jury.

Mineola, N. Y., July 15.—When the grand jury investigating the murder of Mrs. Louise Bailey in Freeport, June 30, and the alleged complicity of Mrs. Florence Conklin Carman, adjourned today, but three witnesses remained to be heard. District Attorney Smith said he believed the inquisitors would dispose of the case by noon tomorrow. The grand jurors are expected to decide tomorrow whether Mrs. Carman will be brought from the nassau county jail to tell her story.

District Attorney Smith said he would refuse the physician's wife permission to testify even though she signed a waiver of immunity. Then her attorney, George M. Levy, and her husband visited her in the jail, and had her sign a petition addressed to the judge requesting the privilege of appearing and abandoning all rights to immunity.

Mrs. Carman was anxious to tell her story to newspaper men late today, but the district attorney would not permit her to do so.

The most important witness today was Frank J. Farrell, whose story, as told to District Attorney Smith, was that on the night of June 30, he started for the back door of the Carman home to ask for food and saw a tall woman come from the back door, go directly to a window in what he now knows to be the doctor's office and break the glass.

Farrell said he heard a shot, then hurried off. When he read about the murder in the newspapers, Farrell was quoted as saying he went to the district attorney.

COUNTER REVOLUTION IN NORTHERN MEXICO

Rebel Garrison of Small Town Annihilated

Three Hundred Guerillas Attack the Border Town in Full Sight of American Troops Across the Line—Seige.

Columbus, N. M., July 15.—The annihilation today of the Constitutionalist garrison at Palomas, Chihuahua, by Federals broke the peace of northern Mexico and revived reports of counter revolutions in the republic. Three hundred guerillas under Gen. Roque Gomez, attacked the border town in view of troops of the United States army patrol. Every man in the village garrison was killed, it is reported.

Thirty men under Captain Topet fought from abode houses from the town but all were overpowered within a few minutes except seven men who kept up fire for several hours. It was believed these seven were executed.

Gomez announced today that he would leave during the night. It was learned that General Villa has sent 300 men from the Pearson garrison to retake the place.

Relation Between Enginemen and Management at Breaking Point.

Chicago, July 15.—Relations between Chicago and the general managers' committee approached the breaking point today. The men's representatives prepared a final ultimatum on wages and working conditions, but the managers' committee already had declared that the demands could not be agreed to. Huerta's Temporary Successor in Mexico

FRANCISCO CARBAJAL

©1914 AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION

Vera Cruz, July 15.—Interesting developments have been awaited following the interesting statements of Roberto Esteva Ruiz, formerly acting secretary of foreign affairs, who arrived here from Mexico City. He declared that General Huerta was about to resign and leave Mexico. He said that Huerta planned to turn over the government to Francisco Carbajal, his new minister of foreign affairs, with the understanding that Minister Carbajal will in turn resign and leave the chair for some one who will be acceptable to the Constitutionalists. Upon Huerta's resignation today, Carbajal was elected by the Mexican Congress as provisional president.

OUTCOME DEPENDS ON NEW HAVEN DIRECTORS

McReynolds Awaits Result of Their Meeting.

Attorney General Will Then Decide What Course Will be Followed by Government in Untangling the System.

Washington, July 15.—Attorney General McReynolds is waiting only for the outcome of a meeting of New Haven Railroad directors in New York tomorrow before determining the course the government will pursue in untangling the New Haven system.

This meeting is expected to consider legislation recently enacted by Massachusetts affecting the sale of Boston & Maine Railroad stock now held indirectly by the New Haven. The road's executive committee has expressed unwillingness to attempt to dispose of the Boston & Maine in view of this legislation, which gives Massachusetts an option to purchase the stock. If the directors also decline there is little doubt that a suit will be filed in New York this week to have the New Haven dissolved under the Sherman anti-trust act. If they accept the Massachusetts legislation, a suit will be averted.

Administration officials do not deny they would like to see the New Haven directors accept the Massachusetts legislation and prevent an anti-trust suit. One argument advanced in negotiations with the New Haven has been that business all through New England will be seriously affected by an anti-trust suit.

It seemed almost certain tonight that, if the Department of Justice decides to prosecute criminally any officials of the New Haven who were in power when the alleged combination in restrain of trade was built up, the cases will be laid before a Federal grand jury soon after tomorrow's meeting if the directors act adversely. The department's brief in the civil case has been ready for a long time and information to support the request for indictments has been in official hands for weeks.

WILL DECIDE TODAY.

Location of Methodist University in South to be Settled.

Atlanta, Ga., July 15.—Final decision as to the location of the proposed new university to be established by the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, will be made here tomorrow.

The educational commission appointed at the recent general conference of the church at Oklahoma City today met and considered invitations from Southern cities to be made the site of the institution. Both Atlanta and Birmingham have made large land and financial offers.

Borough of Manhattan Alone Has Five Hundred and Forty in Six Months.

New York, July 15.—In one borough of Greater New York—Manhattan—540 absolute divorces were granted during the six months ended June 30, as against 372 during the same period last year. These figures were made public today by the county clerk.

Mobile, Ala., July 15.—President R. V. Taylor, of the Mobile & Ohio Railroad, announced here today that five million dollars has been set aside for the construction of a new bridge the Ohio river at Cairo, Ill. The road will also spend more than a million for new equipment.

CONTINUE WORK ON JONES' NOMINATION

Another Day of Battle in Senate Chamber

BOTH SIDES CONFIDENT

Testimony Given Before Senate Banking and Currency Committee by Jones is Made Public Late Yesterday Afternoon.

Washington, July 15.—After another day's fight over the nomination of Thos. D. Jones, of Chicago, as a member of the Federal Reserve Board, opponents of confirmation tonight claimed that eight and possibly ten Democratic Senators would vote against the President's choice. Champions of Mr. Jones, however, still were hopeful and were exerting every effort to line up votes necessary to override on the floor of the Senate tomorrow the banking committee majority's adverse report.

Both sides professed to see added strength for their positions in the publication of Mr. Jones' testimony before the committee at its inquiry into his relations with the International Harvester Company and the New Jersey Zinc Company. This testimony was made public by unanimous vote late today. Mr. Jones had telegraphed that he welcomed publication of his statement.

In the course of his examination the record showed, while defending the Harvester Company and the actions of its board of directors since he became a member in 1909 Mr. Jones said he was thoroughly in accord with what he believed to be President Wilson's policy in destroying monopoly.

Bitterness which has characterized the fight, reached a climax early in the day at a secret meeting of the committee. The Democratic minority charged that the majority excluded from the report certain portions of Mr. Jones' testimony, which put him in a favorable light, and, that the report was of a slanderous nature. Majority Senators are said to have replied that attention could be called in the minority report to matters that the majority might have failed to mention.

Jones' Testimony.

In the record testimony taken by the committee with regard to Mr. Jones as a director of the Harvester Company, which is under indictment by the government as a monopoly in restraint of trade, the following appears:

"Senator Hitchcock—Would you like to state to the committee your reasons for going into the directorate of this company without having any financial interest in it?"

"Mr. Jones—Certainly. I had been on terms of close intimacy with the McCormick family for 30 years. In the early part of 1909 they asked me to become a director of the Harvester Company. I told them what they already knew, that I had no interest whatever in the stock of the concern, and had no plans contemplating an investment, and they said they knew that, and that it was not an investor in stocks that they were looking for. It was somebody who could afford to give the time demanded as a director of the company and they asked me as a personal favor to consent to do so.

"Senator Hitchcock — Not for any compensation?"

"Mr. Jones—Not the slightest, nor the promise of any of the the expectation of any.

"Senator Pomerene—When you say 'they,' please state the names.

"Mr. Jones—Mr. Cyrus H. McCormick was the man who asked me, but he told me that he was speaking on behalf of the family."

Mr. Jones reviewed the scope of the Harvester concern since its organization, explaining the segregation of domestic and foreign companies at the time Attorney General Wickersham began proceedings to dissolve the American combination.

Later in the examination Mr. Jones said he acceded to the general plans of the combination.

"Senator Reed—You made no effort to change its policies?"

"Mr. Jones—I knew of no practices in the company after I became a director that I thought in any way in contrast with the law."

"Senator Reed—Or good morals?"

"Mr Jones—Or good morals."

Senator Reynolds—Did you satisfy yourself as to whether the selling contracts are unfair?"

"Mr. Jones—I believe they are entirely fair."

Inquiry into Mr. Jones' affiliation with the New Jersey Zinc Company as stockholder and director was not extended. He explained that although the consolidated companies controlled 85 per cent of the oxide of zinc trade of the country, there had been no combination in restraint of trade.

Near the conclusion of the examination the record shows the following:

"Senator Hitchcock—The committee was curious to know whether you views on monopoly were in harmony with the opinion of the country, which is strongly opposed to anything tending to centralize or monopolize business."

"Mr. Jones—I have not the slightest hesitation in answering any questions that may be asked as to what my views may be. I am thoroughly in accord with what I believe to be President Wilson's policy in destroying monopoly."

OTIS CRANDALL

Red McGhee says:

When batters started havin' fun with Wiltse or Christy Mathewson, Jeff Tesreau or Marquard, McGraw would get the derrick out an' enter Crandall in the bout—a scratch man on the card. In 1912 an' '13 Doc just played relief man for the flock of Giant pitchin' hands. When early innings threatened storm ol' Doc was out there keein' warm, 'longside the outfield stands.

Relief man—that was always Doc. An' most times he had goods in stock to fill the order right. Pinch pitchin' wasn't all he did. He earned the name of candy kid for timely cloutin' might. Last year they shipped him to the Cards an' right away his bleacher pards set up an awful yell. They dragged him back 'fore very long but singin' that ol' rescue song on Doc began to tell.

The Feds hung up a bunch o' coin an' Doc was on the job. St. Louis has him now. Right ofi the reel he copped five straight an' when he wandered to the plate he showed the sluggers how. His right fist full of twists an' slants don't give Fed hitsmiths any chance to make their av'rage fat. His "frog" was wrong, some folks may say—has spoiled his future. Well, I say, let Doc look out for that.

THEATRICAL

Be certain to be on hand at the Grand Theatre today all ye amusement-lovers of Wilmington. There today will be offered one of the merriest and most fascinating of shows, made up of the latest films and a superb programme by Miss Framan, the expert manipulator of the wonderful Wurlitzer orchestra, who is playing a special engagement at The Grand.

Heading today's great show is such a bright star in the way of a film creation. It is the Vitagraph's "Cutey's Wife," in two parts. It is one of the jolliest of all the Cutey films, with Wallie Van, the inimitable comedian, appearing as "Cutey" and charming, pretty Lillian Walker in the role of "Betty" In this film "Cutey" and "Betty" find themselves precipitated into hymen's snare, and then the fun, fast and furious, begins.

Another notable offering will be "The Mystery of the Amsterdam Diamonds," being the seventh thrilling and startling mystery in the adventures of Cleek, the detective. The clever romantic actor, Ben Wilson, of course, appears as "Cleek." It is a stirring, mystifying story of a diamond smuggling.

And here's still another big one for today in Selig's "The Clock Went Wrong." It's the story of the theft of a clock and how the wrong man was arrested.

Remember the same old price of 5 cents admission is holding forth.

Bargain Day at Bijou.

Today is the big bargain day of the week at the popular photoplay house, and the biggest programme of the week, and the biggest of the year for the small admission of five cents, will be presented.

Headed by a mammoth two-reel dramatic feature, "The Mohammedan Conspiracy," a mammoth thrilling, and awe-inspiring story of the Orient, this will be one of the biggest days in the history of the Bijou. This is one of the most wonderful pictures ever staged, and will make a distinct hit today at Wilmington's largest and coolest theatre.

A full reel Nestor drama, "The Lost Arrow," comes next, and features such screen stars as William Gettinger and Eva Fay. It's an Indian picture, and is full of thrills from beginning to end.

Another one of those big Victor comedy-dramas, "A Twentieth Century Pirate" is one of the really big numbers, as it features in the leading role that peerless screen actor, J. Warren Kerrigan, and will be one of the distinct hits of the year.

"Lost by a Hair," is a big Rex comedy, and features Lois Weber and Phillips Smalley, assisted by a whole company of screen stars. It tells the story of a noted tenor who is the victim of a cruel joke and loses his pull in the town, and is a scream from beginning to end.

Then there is a notable split-reel offering, "The Scene of His Crime" and "A Race for a Bride," both on one reel, two of the funniest side-splitting comedies of the times, featuring the popular fun makers, Tod Browning, Tammany Young and Fay Tincher. Six distinct pictures, and one of them in two reels—all for five cents. Truly, this may be called a bargain day.

NEW BANK AT LUCAMA.

Steps Taken to Organize With $12,000 Capital:

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Wilson, N. C., July 15.—Attorney E. J. Barnes, of Wilson, went to Lucama yesterday afternoon where he consulted with a number of business men of that town in the matter of organizing a bank. The articles of agreement were drawn up and a charter will be asked for at once. It was decided that the capital stock should be $12,000. The bank has rented a building, but will probably build commodious quarters in the near future. As soon as the charter is secured the stockholders will meet and elect the officers.

GOING AFTER POOL ROOM KEEPERS IN WILSON NOW.

License of One Revoked, as Nuisance. Others Are Watched.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Wilson, N. C., July 15.—Mayor Dickinson and Chief of Police Wiggs have gone after the pool room keepers and yesterday annulled the license of the place operated by J. H. Gill, declaring it a public nuisance. According to the reports furnished the officers, the place was so disorderly at times that a guard with pistol protection was needed. The officers are watching other pool rooms and propose to clean out all establishments that are not conducted in better fashion.

DEMOCRATIC ADVISORY COMMITTEE IS NAMED

J. O. Carr is Member From the Sixth District.

Chairman Warren Announces That Democratic State Headquarters for Campaign Will be Openened About Sept. 1st.

(Special Star Telegram.)

Raleigh, N. C., July 15.—Chairman Thomas D. Warren, of the State Democratic Executive Committee, announces the appointment of the advisory committee for the impending campaign as follows: First district, Thomas J. Jarvis, Greenville; Second district, S. A. Woodard, Wilson; Third district, W. T. Dortch, Goldsboro; Fourth district, E. E. Britton, Raleigh; Fifth district, Gen. Julian S. Carr, Durham; Sixth district, J. O. Carr, Wilmington; Seventh district, L. D. Robinson Wadesboro; Eighth district, J. H. Burke, Taylorsville; Ninth district, C. R. Hoey, Shelby; Tenth district, J. E. Carroway, Waynesville.

Chairman Warren says that he and Secretary J. R. Collie will open State Democratic headquarters here about September 1st. In the meantime the preparation of the Democratic handbook for the campaign will be pushed.

He says that in the matter of the county boards of elections, although neither the Republican nor the Progressive parties polled the minimum 50,000 votes in the state to entitle them to representation on the boards and the Democrats could under the law exact the full membership of the three to each board, it will be his policy to recommend to the State Board of Elections only the usual three Democratic names for each board from which the board can choose two for each county and he presumes that State Chairman Morehead for the Republicans, and Chairman Walser, for the Progressives, will recommend three each and the State board can select their member from either the Republican or the Progressive list as the board may deem right in the light of the status of the two minority parties in the various sections of the State.

SUNDAY SCHOOL AND C. E. CONVENTION AT GREENSBORO

Several Addresses of Interest Yesterday—School Children Vaccinated.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Greensboro, N. C., July 15.—The second day of the Sunday school and Christian Endeavor convention for the Christian church in this district conference was featured by a conference for superintendents conducted by Rev. A. B. Kendall, of Burlington; addresses on missions, cradle roll, home department and organized classes.

At the morning session, C. B. Riddle spoke on the "Possibilities of the Country Sunday School;" Rev. A. B. Kendall on "Meeting the Needs of the Hour," and Dr. W. A. Harper, on "Missions Practical in the Sunday School." Dr. Atkinson spoke on "The Sunday School an Open Door to Missionary Training."

In the afternoon Mrs. J. W. Patton spoke on "The Cradle Roll;" Mrs. E. R. Michaux and Mrs. R. I. Williams on "Elementary Work;" Rev. H. S. Smith, on "Open Windows to Elementary Training." Rev. A. B. Kendall delivered a very strong address on "The Even Gate to the Sunday School."

Tonight addresses were made on the organized class by Charles A. Hines and John R. Foster, Rev. J. O. Atkinson, editor of the Christian Sun, delivered a strong address on "The Sunday School, the Layman's Opportunity."

County Physician W. M. Jones yesterday gave 65 people of the Pleasant Garden community anti-typhoid vaccine. These people responded without any solicitation, and no notice except the mere statement that the county health officer would be present at the time to administer the vaccine to those who desired it. Dr. Jones said that if the offer to vaccinate had been made four years ago there would have been no response whatever, and people would have scorned "the fake." Such is the progress that is being made in health work. More than 200 people in the county have taken the anti-typhoid vaccination in the last two weeks.

Skin Health Comes From the Blood

Even Slight Eruptions Such As Acne Should Be Treated.

Pimples and other skin troubles do not alight on the face like flies. They come bubbling out from within. They are impurities. And if let alone or greased with salves they become chronic, simply because the cause is still at work within. It should be attacked with S. S. S. and the impurities in the blood thus rendered harmless.

The skin is but a net work of fine blood vessels. And it is a perfectly natural consequence that any influence in the blood that is a condition of ill health makes its first appearance in the skin. There are certain medicinal properties that follow the course of the blood stream and the influence of these properties is that of an antidote. This is why S. S. S., the best-known blood purifier, has such a positive action in the skin. There is one ingredient in S. S. S. which peculiarly stimulates cellular or glandular activity to select from the blood or from this fine net work of blood vessels in the skin, those elements which it requires for regeneration.

Thus pimples, acne, eczema, lupus, or any other blood condition that attacks the skin or seeks an outlet through the skin is met with the antidotal effect of S. S. S.

This is why skin troubles vanish so readily and why they do not return.

Under the influence of S. S. S. this fine net work of blood vessels in the skin is constantly taking from the blood the nutrition required for healthy tissue and the cause of disease is just as constantly being removed, scattered and rendered harmless. These facts are more fully explained in a book on skin troubles sent by The Swift Specific Co., 331 Swift Bldg., Atlanta, Ga. You will find S. S. S. on sale at all drug stores. Get a bottle to-day and banish all skin afflictions.

ARCH JOHNSON UNABLE TO RAISE $6,000 BOND

He and His Brother's Widow to Remain in Jail

Enormous Crowd at Preliminary Hearing—Both Defendants Confirm Confession Made to Newspaper Man.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Tarboro, N. C., July 15.—Late yesterday afternoon in the court house in Williamston, Archie Johnson, charged with being an accessory before the fact in the murder of his brother, Joe Johnson, in Martin county, on the evening of July 4, was given a preliminary hearing before Justice of the Peace Wynn and the mayor of Williamston, who is also a justice of the peace, with the result that he was bound over to the September term of the Superior court under a justified bond of $6,000. He stated that he could not give this bond and was remanded to jail.

During the trial he made a statement, which was taken down and later signed by Johnson, that was practically the same as the one he made Monday afternoon to your correspondent. Mrs. Elizabeth Johnson also testified at the preliminary and numerous other facts were brought out when she was cross-examined by the defendant.

Court Room Crowded.

The court room was crowded with people from all over the county during the trial and Solicitor R. G. Allsbrook, of this city, conducted the case for the State. Sheriff Crawford and Mr. Nabers related the story of the confession and the defendant verified their statements, saying there was nothing he wished to ask either of them. His first question to Mrs. Johnson was as to whether or not she still loved him and when this was answered in the affirmative, he seemed content.

Show Signs of Strain.

Both of them are beginning to show the strain under which they are laboring, and Mrs. Johnson, who has been in jail the longest, hardly looks the same as when she was arrested. She generally wears a little house dress and apparently cares very little about her personal appearance. They continually ask to be allowed to be together where they can talk and their greatest concern is apparently not about themselves, but about each other.

It is the worst affair that ever took place in Martin county and everyone there who has heard about it is discussing it. The whole county was shocked at the news and each new development has fed the talk until now it is the main topic of conversation.

As yet no woman has paid the extreme penalty in a felony case in this State and as Mrs. Johnson stands charged with premeditated murder there is a great deal of speculation as to the outcome. Both of the people are now in jail and will remain there until the Superior court. The woman has a well ventilated room upstairs and Sheriff Crawford has done everything possible for her comfort. The man is down stairs in the main jail.

MR. AND MRS. COOPER BEREAVED

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Teacheys, N. C., July 15.—On Tuesday, July 14th, at 5 A. M., at the home of her grandmother, Mrs. H. C. E. McIntire, little Mary Burke, the youngest child of Mr. and Mrs. Carl B. Cooper, of Montgomery, Ala., died, after over two months of illness. She was 20 months old, and had just reached that age when she was the greatest joy and pleasure to her devoted parents.

After being sick for some time in Montgomery, their physician had them bring her to Wrightsville Beach in the hope that the salt air would restore her to good health, but not obtaining the desired results she was brought here and everything that medical skill and the best of nursing could do in the effort to save her little life was to no avail.

There are left to mourn her death a devoted mother and father and little brother and sister, who have the tender sympathy of many friends here and elsewhere.

ITCHING IRRITATION.

Worst Form of Skin Trouble Quickly Relieved by Inexpensive Treatment

When you suffer with any skin trouble, even though the itching seems unbearable, do not think that it is necessary to use some disgusting, greasy ointment. Try Hokara, a pure and simple cream, that is guaranteed to contain no grease or acids and which is so cleanly that it does not soil the linen.

Its power to instantly relieve any irritation of the skin and make it soft, white and beautiful is almost miraculous.

Not only do minor skin troubles like pimples, blackheads, acne, barber's itch, etc., quickly disappear, but the worst ulcers or cases of salt rheum or eczema are cleansed and healed by this wonderful skin food.

In order that any one may try Hokara at small expense, the J. Hicks Bunting Drug Co. Drug Store are selling a liberal-sized jar at 25c, and in addition guarantee to refund the money if the treatment does not do all that is claimed for it.

GOOD ROADS FEVER SPREADS

Smithville Township In Brunswick Votes $10,000 Bonds—Town Creek to Vote—Notes.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Southport, N. C., July 15.—Your correspondent has had a good deal to write on the good roads movement in Brunswick county. And yet the movement, backed by an almost unanimous sentiment favorable for good roads, continues in this county, nearly every township being inclined to vote road bonds, in order to secure good roads. Brunswick has been held as a rather non-progressive county, in a material sense, when it meant extra taxes. But there is apparently no fear of voting for more and better roadways. Only last Saturday, Smithville township voted $10,000 for road bonds, the money from the sale of these bonds being wanted to keep up roads now in the township, and to build more, this more being specially the new proposed automobile highway between this city and Wilmington.

Great interest is manifested in this auto highway in Wimington, and its construction is being eagerly watched. Not less is the interest here, as shown by the fact that the Commercial Association has become active in pushing it forward to completion, and is assuming the greater part of the movement in seeing that the work goes forward. This was to be seen in the bond election of last Saturday, noted above, also that the association had a committee before the county commissioners on Monday last, asking for representation on the board of road commissioners of this township, and securing this representation in the appointment of Capt. J. J. Adkins, a gentleman active in local progression.

In this good roads movement it is to be noted that the taxpayers of Town Creek township have asked the county commissioners to grant them an election to vote for road bonds, which was granted, and the date set for August 18, the amount asked for being $10,000. This money is wanted to complete some good roads now without connections.

Brunswick county teachers' institute began a two weeks work last Monday, about 30 teachers being enrolled. Mr. J. H. McIver, of Wadesboro, is director, assisted by Mrs. C. L. Stevens.

Two trophies of the huntsman or sportsman were exhibited here this week, one being a 250-pound shark, eight feet long, which was caught off the dock, with a light fishing line, after considerable effort and skill, the burden being to land his sharkship, it requiring five persons to do it; the other was a rattlesnake six feet long with 12 rattles and a button. The rattler was killed ten miles from here.

With the exception of this vicinity, where it is too dry, all reports of crops in the county are excellent. The cantaloupe crop near here is very fine and abundant.

County Improvements.

Some long needed county improvements have finally been nearly consummated, at least the contracts have been given. These are water sewerage for the court house and jail. W. R. Dosher & Co., of Wilmington, were given the court house, and the jail, which is several blocks distant from the court house, was given to Thos. G. Mahen, a local contractor.

The menhaden fishing steamers have had poor catches for more than a week. During the target practice drills of the big guns at Fort Caswell, the latter part of June, there were immense numbers of fatbacks along the shore, off the Cape Fear river. The fishing steamers were after the fish which could be seen on the surface, but with each discharge of the big guns, there would be a sudden sinking out of sight of the menhaden, which went deep down, to reappear again. It made the catch very uncertain.

The jurors for the Superior court of Brunswick, which convenes here for a one week's term, August 17, were drawn this week. Those from Northwest are J. T. West, F. M. Williams and J. T. Roper.

ALONZO MARSHBURN CAUGHT.

One of Eight Prisoners Tells of Escape from Duplin Jail.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Kinston, N. C., July 15.—Alonzo Marshburn, a negro, was today carried to the Duplin county jail at Kenansville, from where he with seven others escaped about two weeks ago. He was arrested by a Lenoir county planter and brought to jail here until a Duplin officer could come for him. Marshburn confessed that he was wanted in Duplin to stand trial on a charge of larceny, and described the means that he and the others employed to escape.

While the little county seat town was sleeping the conspirators in the jail held a religious service to drown the noise made by those digging the hole for their escape. Song and prayer services are frequent occurrences in the county jail in Kenansville, and citizens disturbed from their slumbers returned immediately to sleep. An especially capable black led the service, while the physical huskies used the tools. Marshburn was a chorister, and prayed a bit, too, he said. The time for the exit was accompanied by an extra loud "amen" and the eight slipped through the hole and skulked away over the countryside. Only Marshburn has been captured.

"FREE RANGERS" MAY RUN AN INDEPENDENT TICKET.

To Make Stock Law Political Issue in Pender County.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Burgaw, N. C., July 15.—It appears now that the purpose of the "Free Rangers" has been to make political capital out of the stock law question, and it is stated that they propose to run an independent "free range" ticket in Pender county this fall for county offices and the Legislature.

As a great many of them must have taken part in the recent Congressional primary, the question arises will they be eligible to participate in the next primary, to be held in August? It has been thought all along that the Republicans among them were using the stock law question to disrupt the Democratic party in the county, and this latest move proves it. As the stock law question is essentially a non-partisan one, loyal Democrats take the position that it would be silly to make a party issue out of it, and the "Free Rangers" who are Democrats will be wise to halt before it is too late.

POLITICAL CONDITIONS IN STATE EXCELLENT

Democratic Prospects Bright Says Chairman Warren

Governor Blease Writes Craig Cordial Letter Giving Permission for Troops to Pass Through South Carolina.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Raleigh, N. C., July 15.—Chairman T. D. Warren, of the Democratic State executive committee, was here from Newbern today talking with the State officers and other party leaders and incidentally gathering material for the preparation of the forthcoming Democratic handbook that will be issued later in the campaign period. He says that political conditions throughout the State are excellent and that in his part of the State the Republicans nor the Progressives are making any move at all to put any tickets in the field in opposition to the Democrats.

He says there are assurances that the second primary for the Third Congressional district to settle the nomination as between Hon. C. R. Thomas and George E. Hood to be pulled off August 1st, will be a thoroughly orderly affair and result in no injury to the party conditions

Blease Cordially Says Yes.

Governor Craig received a very cordial letter this morning from Governor Cole Blease granting the permission requested for the North Carolina troops to pass through South Carolina on their way to Augusta, Ga., for the encampment with United States regulars. Governor Blease wrote Governor Craig that since the troops were really merely to pass through his State for encampment purposes there was no necessity for permission to be obtained from him under the statute, but that since the permission was requested it was most cordially and heartily granted.

Adjutant General Young, of the North Carolina National Guard, issued a commission today to W. A. Jackson, Mount Airy, as second lieutenant, third battalion, first infantry, to succeed P. D. Eshelmon, of High Point.

Mt. Gilead Depot Matter.

The Corporation Commission heard today exceptions to the recent order of the commission for the new passenger station for the Norfolk Southern at Mount Gilead to be erected on the "Ledbetter site". The citizens backing the exceptions to the site ordered were represented by W. C. Douglass, of this city as counsel. The law firm of Manning & Kitchin appeared in support of the Ledbetter site. No disposition is yet made of the exceptions.

INVESTIGATION IS MADE

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Mount Olive, N. C., July 15.—Leading business men and farmers of this section are very anxious that the Central Carolina Railroad, from Lilington to Swansboro, shall be built, because, as is well known, it would mean so much to the section of country through which it would pass; but before going to the extent of issuing bonds to aid in the construction of this road, it has been thought best to make some investigations as to the reliability of the promoters of this road.

Accordingly, M. T. Breazeale, cashier of the Bank of Mount Olive, and L. A. Byrd, a leading business man, of this place, representing the Chamber of Commerce, spent Monday of this week in Lillington and Sanford for the purpose of securing some first-hand information concerning Mr. W. J. Edwards, who is the prime mover in the construction of this road, and who built the Atlantic & Western, from Sanford to Lillington. Messrs. Breazeale and Byrd talked with business men, professional men, farmers and public men at Sanford and Lillington, all of whom spoke in the highest terms of Mr. Edwards as a responsible, successful and trustworthy gentleman, who has carried out every promise and lived up to every contract and agreement made with the people. It was also learned that the people living along the Atlantic & Western, which was built by the aid of local bond issues, are well pleased with the services of the road, and are therefore, proud of the support they rendered in its construction.

A delegation of leading farmers from Wolfscrape township, Duplin county, also left here a day or two ago for the purpose of making investigations along the same line, and the information secured in this way will be quite generally divulged throughout the townships in which bond elections are to be held, for the benefit of the voters.

STOMACH TROUBLE FOR FIVE YEARS

Majority of Friends Thought Mr. Hughes Would Die, But One Helped Him to Recovery.

Pomeroyton, Ky.—In interesting advices from this place, Mr. A. J. Hughes writes as follows: "I was down with stomach trouble for five (5) years, and would have sick headache so bad, at times, that I thought surely I would die.

I tried different treatments, but they did not seem to do me any good.

I got so bad, I could not eat or sleep, and all my friends, except one, thought I would die. He advised me to try Thedford's Black-Draught, and quit taking other medicines. I decided to take his advice, although I did not have any confidence in it.

I have now been taking Black-Draught for three months, and it has cured me—haven't had those awful sick headaches since I began using it.

I am so thankful for what Black-Draught has done for me."

Thedford's Black-Draught has been found a very valuable medicine for derangements of the stomach and liver. It is composed of pure, vegetable herbs, contains no dangerous ingredients, and acts gently, yet surely. It can be freely used by young and old, and should be kept in every family chest.

Huerta can't read nor write but he may have point of view enough to see his finish.

Because a man denies the allegation, it is no reason why he should not be searched.

Atlanta never lets hot weather prevent her from going out and digging her a lot of sensational publicity.

A man who lets his business dictate his political convictions will never accumulate enough for his boys to inherit.

Half the things some people see are about one-tenth of what they think they see. The ghosts which people think they see are shadows on the wall.

If Huerta has the money, it's about time for him to cash in and take his clothes and go. The unconquerable rebs are going right on over the cactus to the City of Mexico.

Don't ever anger the people. A mad populace is the hardest thing in the world to deal with. When it comes to bucking and kicking in large squads a Texas broncho is not at all init.

Probably the Land of Nod was a country where the people were sleeping over their seizable opportunities. If so, the people of the Land of Nod must have been known as nodules.

A lot of Louisiana Democrats are letting a little thing like sugarcane make them absolve themselves from allegiance to the militant Democracy. They should remember what happened to Cain for raising cane.

The opportunity for being more than a bump on a log used to be confined to politics in North Carolina, but there is a broadened sphere today. The young men of the State can become noted State builders while a few are trying to be statesmen, with every cross roads politician wanting to get on his job by getting him out with the office-seeking crow bar. With splendid resources, such as are possessed by North Carolina in immense variety, young men have magnificent constructive opportunities in every county in the State.

Former President Mellen, despite the expose of the congressional committee which investigated the wrecking of the New York and New Haven road, says he has done no wrong and is willing to face any tribunal in the land. He probably belongs to a class of big businessites who think all the blame should be put on those who permit themselves to be robbed out of millions of dollars by high finance methods. The tribunals of the country are more than likely to regard robbery as robbery, without regard to the manner of committing it.

TO BRING IRON ORE FROM CHILE

Evidently the importation of iron ores from Chile, Venezuela and other Latin countries is to be one of the great commercial opportunities of South Atlantic ports in the near future. The Manufacturers' Record this week notes that the Bethlehem Steel Company is preparing to bring 1,500,000 tons of iron ore a year from Chile to the Bethlehem plant, a distance of 4,500 miles. The ore is now being imported into Philadelphia where it goes into the reduction plant.

The Bethlehem Steel Company owns an immense ore body in Chile and the ore is at present being brought around from the west coast of South America through the Straits of Magellan. When the ships can come through the Panama Canal the distance will be cut in half. The ore will pass right off our South Atlantic ports and could be landed in any of them at a saving.

A reduction plant in Wilmington and water terminals for handling the ore would make this port a producer of steel. The opportunity exists and it is a wonder the steel makers do not let the idea strike them. Economy of ocean transportation favors the South Atlantic.

THE REPUBLICAN POLICY OF OBSTRUCTION.

It is rather inconsistent that Republicans in Congress are criticising the administration for not taking a hand in Mexico, while they are now criticising it for making a good start in that direction. To the amateurs, the seizure of Vera Cruz was a farce. Any man with a single military idea in his head knows that if Mexican intervention has to come, the occupation of Vera Cruz with slight loss of life, will yet prove to be a strategic affair of the first magnitude. If we hold on to Vera Cruz, and the time should ever come when invasion became necessary, we will find ourselves already in possession of the key to the situation. Otherwise, we would have to fight for the vantage ground and that would mean hundreds of new graves for American soldiers.

Intervention at any time means war with Mexico, whether the operations would be so called civilized warfare or guerilla warfare and plenty of it. Necessarily, there would have to be a sacrifice of thousands of lives, but we will guarantee that on account of the first serious engagement in which many young Americans would have their lives snuffed out, the same Republican naggers and jingoes would take the lead in a "holy horror" performance.

Representative Mondell, of Wyoming, took occasion in the House on Tuesday to pursue in a partisan spirit the Republican policy of attacking the Democratic administration on every line, and especially as to its policy of dealing with the grave problem which Mexico furnishes for this country.

Whether the international policy of either a Republican or a Democratic administration is right or wrong, we have always regarded it as a serious if not unpatriotic thing to subject it to criticism in so-called "open debate" in the eyes of all the world. When an administration acts, it is the Nation taking a position, and if there should happen to be eventualities every Congressman knows he would have to back his country whether it were right or wrong. A critic today may have to stand by his country tomorrow, else occupy the attitude of a traitor. Then why the near-traitor act for political effect?

Everybody knows that when the administration saw fit to send a portion of the Navy and the Army to Vera Cruz for the purpose of seizing it by force, there was a strong probability that it would lead to war with Mexico—perhaps with some other power before the end came. That was the Nation acting and everybody knows that if the seizure of Vera Cruz had led to war, Republicans and Democrats would have backed the Republic's military forces in all eventualities.

We have never had any respect at all for the American statesmanship which indulges in demagogic railery while men in the parliamentary bodies of other nations seem to know when it is time to considerately play shutmouth in order not to embarrass their country. They leave it to other nations to make the criticisms about their country's international policy after it has been adopted and becomes a National attitude.

The Vera Cruz affair is not yet a closed book. Men like Mondell, who bay the Democratic President with senseless mouthings, may yet realize that American possession of Vera Cruz would provide this country a stronghold from which to operate if Mexico is not to be otherwise pacified. The only mistake about it that President Wilson could make now would be to abandon Vera Cruz till it is absolutely certain that the Mexicans can reconstruct their government and settle down in peace.

NAPOLEONIC BLACKSMITHS.

Secretary Daniels says naval officers are gallant and patriotic all right but that they are not good diplomats. If they are they are exceptions to the rule. Few military men have any diplomatic genius. They are trained in an atmosphere of force and their main reliance is on arms. Diplomacy is the art of statesmen. The diplomat depends upon wisdom. The imperious depends upon the "big stick." The mere fact that it is proposed to make a civilian statesman president of Mexico instead of some military chieftain is based on the general knowledge that a military man is more liable to usurp power that does not belong to him. There is no safety for any country whose executive is a man who thinks his will is superior to constitutions and laws.

Most of the American presidents have regarded the constitution as sacred and have recognized that it places limitations upon their authority and power, but only recently a former president boastfully declared in a court of justice that when he was president he took it on himself to ignore the constitution to the extent that he knew it would make him liable to impeachment. His plan was to use the army in Pennsylvania to seize privately owned coal mines and operate them in defiance of their owners and contrary to the constitution of the United States of America, as well as of the constitution of the sovereign State of Pennsylvania. He knew that but he told the court that he assumed all the authority and did not care for the consequences.

He thought he could do it and get off at it, but the program was called off. What do you think of any man who thinks his will is superior to the constitution and the law? In the last analysis it indicates in a man of such imperious will and self-importance an inborn contempt of constitutional limitations to power. That's all there is to that. If that kind of man is not dangerous, we will admit that men like Porfirio Diaz and Victoriano Huerta take the cake, although the time for them to keep it is limited.

Nevertheless, usurpers manage to hold their own for a long time. They even manage to surround themselves with armies and fight to the last ditch to overthrow revolt against their tyranny and despotism. People would not have to fight usurpers if they would only keep power away from the class of men who are stuck on Napoleon and his ways. We like their nerve but we despise their egomania.

When Napoleonic apprentices are put out of business it will prevent them from becoming more or less imperial blacksmiths. When it happens we always hope to be up in the front row where the shouting noise is being made.

THE BEST CHANCE FOR THE GIRL AND BOY.

If you have a fine girl you should know that she will be a refined girl if she gets the advantage of the best education it is possible to give her. The better the education, the finer the girl. A man's daughter can be a pretty girl but she can be made a pretty smart girl.

A great boy may become a great man, but he has to get his chance. If he lacks education he cannot readily avail himself of the chances he may have in life. Regardless of that Professor Francis, of Los Angeles, a girl or a boy is entitled to know everything worth knowing, and the more they know the better will they hold their own in every position in which they may find themselves.

The path of life has its pleasant places, its rough spots and its tough propositions. Throughout its entire length there is strong and incessant competition, and the girl or boy who is not fitted and equipped for competition with others will get left. There will be propositions they cannot master, problems they cannot solve, and tests they cannot meet, unless they are prepared with the enlightenment and knowledge that will enable them to take advantage of every opportunity.

However great may be their energy or their ambition, lack of knowledge and enlightenment will surely circumscribe their endeavors in the larger spheres of life anywhere on earth. The Los Angeles school superintendent who said in his speech in Chicago that a girl should be limited in knowledge, preached the poorest philosophy of this progressive age.

So far as President Mellen is concerned, he leaves Big Business with the bag to hold. The best way to find out the guilty parties is to make a search and find out who's got the goods. If Mellen did not get any, he must want us to regard him as the rubber stamp used in merely O. K.-ing the transactions of the high-wo-muck-a-mucks of high finance.

CURRENT COMMENT.

It is a pretty hard matter to keep Republicans out of Democratic primaries when both the ins and the outs are bidding for their votes.—Durham Herald.

An increase of 3 per cent in building plans for June in 80 American cities is particularly significant of "calamity-cry" cure; for, as Construction News says, June, 1913, showed "abnormally high figures." A gain of 73 per cent in Brooklyn, or of more than $2,300,000, much better than balances the decline of $500,000, or 7 per cent, in Manhattan-Bronx. In Queens the first six months of 1914 show an increase of $2,175,000 over last year.—New York World.

Mr. J. P. Taylor, of Winston-Salem, does well to direct attention to the revelations of the huge extent to which the Louisville & Nashville Railroad has been issuing free passes, this information having come out a few days ago in a statement issued by the Inter-State Commerce Commission. The free passes were held by public officials from United States Senator down. It should be made a violation of law for any public official to carry a railroad pass.—Raleigh News and Observer.

We commend to Mr. Grundy, of Bristol, and other perturbed mill owners the statement of the American Wool and Cotton Reporter regarding the wool market that "the seasonal lull which usually occurs at about this time seems to be non-existent this year, a greater volume of business being transacted than in the same week for many years past." Evidently somebody—and it must be the manufacturers—is buying wool in great quantities, and just as evidently these same manufacturers must be buying with a view to turning this raw material into cloth goods, in the expectation of a large fall and winter demand. It is hard to see in this any destructive effects of the Underwood tariff.—Philadelphia Record.

The M. & I. learns that Dr. Carter, a government engineer who has been engaged in work in the Panama canal zone, and two other government experts will be at Blewett Falls this week, and the company expects to drain every little pool and body of stagnant water on both sides of the river as far up as Coleman's mill. When they have been drained permanent drainage will be put in, and water will not be allowed to stagnate and become a breeding place for mosquitoes. It will be impossible to give definite plans until the government experts have investigated and made their report, but the improvements will cost many thousand dollars, and when they are completed mosquitoes, it is hoped, will be entirely eradicated, thus destroying the cause of malaria. The Yadkin River Power Co., is to be commended for its public spirited effort to better the health conditions of this fertile country.—Wadesboro Messenger and Intelligencer.

There seems to be no trouble whatever in finding a market for North Carolina municipal bonds. This paper mentioned a few days ago that a New York brokerage firm was trying to sell to North Carolina people bonds of Iredell county issued for road purposes, and offering them at a fine premium. This same brokerage firm has made another investment in North Carolina municipal paper. It is stocked with 26,000 Orange county good roads bonds. These are 5 per cents, are due April 1953, are priced at 103 1-2 and yield 4.80. The Franklin township road bonds are listed at an even better rate. The firm in question has a block of 2,000 of these bonds, 5 1-4 per cents, due in May 1941, priced at 107 3-8 and yield an even 5. The lesson is for our own people to take up the bond issues, and pocket the money which goes to the New York brokers who are sharp enough to buy them up. The North Carolina bond issue is a good investment. We would not see them offered to home people by outsiders were that not the case.—Charlotte Observer.

SEEK AID FOR DESTITUTE.

Citizens of Salem, Mass., Write Wilmington Chamber of Commerce.

Mr. Howard B. Branch, secretary of the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce, has received a letter from representative citizens of Salem, Mass., which had a disastrous fire on June 25, stating that there are grave and pressing problems for relief and asking that he render any assistance possible. Secretary Branch will be glad to receive any funds or supplies that anyone may desire to donate and forward the same to the proper parties.

Following is the letter which has been sent out by the finance committee:

"The calamity which has overtaken the city of Salem in the disastrous fire of Thursday, June 25, presents grave and pressing problems for relief. Briefly, and as far as this committee has been able to ascertain the facts, there are between 15,000 and 20,000 people, mostly wage earners, representing probably between 3,000 and 4,000 families, who have been rendered homeless and destitute.

"In addition to this, and of far greater importance, is the fact that the great majority are without employment, due to the destruction of such industries as the cotton mills and many important factories which provided their employment. The problem of rehabilitation will, of necessity, be a long and expensive one.

"This committee representing the State and local relief committee appointed by the governor and city authorities, makes this general appeal for money for the sufferers, believing, after careful investigation, that the extent of the disaster justifies this action. Contributions may be sent to Gardiner M. Lane, treasurer, care of Lee, Higginson & Co., 44 State street, Boston."

SAYS CROPS ARE FINE.

Hon. J. A. Brown, of Chadbourn, Tells Charlotte People About Crops.

Hon. J. A. Brown, of Chadbourn, was in Charlotte this week and incidentally told the Charlotte Observer man about crops in Eastern North Carolina. The following appeared in yesterday's Observer:

"The crops in the southeastern section of the State generally are excellent, easily comparable to those of 1912, when they were so good, declared Mr. J. A. Brown, of Chadbourn, on the occasion of his recent visit to Charlotte. 'The crops of cotton and corn and those of all other products are splendid and if the seasons continue reasonably fair from this time on until frost, the yield will be one of the best in recent years. The farmers throughout this general section are in good shape financially and the outlook is decidedly optimistic.'

"Mr. Brown is one of the largest farmers and business men generally in Southeastern North Carolina. His home is at Chadbourn, where the strawberry development saw its meteoric rise some years ago. The strawberry crop continues one of the large sources of revenue but in addition, those of the other staple products are emphasized."

NEWSBOYS VERSUS THE ATLANTIC COAST LINE

Conflicting Rights Argued Before City Council

City Attorney Instructed to Draw Resolution Governing Sale of Papers at Union Station—Other Matters.

The constitutional privileges of the lowly newsboy versus the vested rights of the Atlantic Coast Line Railroad featured the weekly session of City Council yesterday, with Mr. J. D. Kelly championing the cause of the vendors of publicity and the interests of the corporation looking after themselves and winning out when Council instructed the city attorney and officials of the police department to investigate and draw a resolution covering the matter of how much sidewalk the newsboys may be allowed to frequent when retailing their wares at the union station.

Other than the above matter, there were few features to the meeting yesterday, though some other business was transacted. All members were present with the exception of Councilman D. N. Chadwick, Jr. Mayor Moore presided and Capt. T. D. Meares, city clerk and treasurer, kept a record of the proceedings. City Attorney E. K. Bryan and Chief of Police N. J. Williams were also present.

Mr. Kelly brought up the matter of the newsboys' rights. He asked if there was an ordinance prohibiting the boys from selling papers on the streets and sidewalks, declaring that at the union station the boys had been prohibited from using a portion of the sidewalk on the ground that it belonged to the Atlantic Coast Line. Officer Chas. E. Wood was particularly active in enforcing the railroad's self-made rule in the matter, said Mr. Kelly. He had spoken to the officer about it and had been informed that he was acting under the authority of the general manager of the A. C. L., Mr. W. N. Royal, who had complained to him about the boys constituting themselves a nuisance. Mr. Kelly said if there was an ordinance prohibiting the sale of papers on the sidewalks, then it should be enforced everywhere, and if not a single officer should not take it upon himself to say how the boys should sell their wares at the union station.

Several members of Council inquired if the action of the boys in swarming around the station at train time did not tend to obstruct traffic. Mr. Kelly replied that he had never seen the boys obstruct traffic there; that they generally plied their wares at the time trains were leaving, and that so far as he had observed they had always acted very courteously and considerately.

Councilman Wood observed that he did not see how the railroad could keep them off unless it fenced off the sidewalk in question. He asked the city atttorney for his opinion on the matter, and Mr. Bryan replied that under existing ordinances, the city had no right to prohibit the newsboys from using any of the public sidewalks.

Chief of Police Williams said that the only effort of the Police Department had been to keep down a nuisance, and that the officers there had been istructed to use their discretion in the matter, because of complaints from officials of the Coast Line.

Mayor Moore suggested that the matter be referred to the city attorney, the chief of police and Councilman W. F. Jones, in charge of the department of public safety, to investigate, but Mr. Jones and Chief Williams thought that nothing could be done under existing ordinances, and after some further discussion the city attorney was instructed to confer with Mr. Jones and the Chief and draw up some sort of an ordinance covering the matter.

Councilman Jones called the attention of Councilman Loughlin to a pump at Fifth and Bladen streets, which he said was still badly in need of repairs. Mr. Loughlin stated that the pump was worn out, and that a new one would be installed.

Councilman Merritt reported that the new street flusher had been received, and after the meeting the Councilmen witnessed a demonstration of its work on Third street, in front of the City Hall. It is a horse-drawn machine, with a force pump operated by a gasoline engine, and will be used for washing down the improved streets, save the macadam and clay gravel thoroughfares, which will still have to be sprinkled and swept as formerly, as the flusher would tend to wash away the surface of these streets.

Mr. Merritt also called attention to the fact that in diverting the waters of Macomber's ditch, a cut had been made across Red Cross street, which constituted a danger to vehicles that might drive that way. Council decided to block off that portion of the street for the present.

City Attorney Bryan, referring to the matter of requiring property owners on the streets in the vicinity of the new schools to lay sidewalks, thought that it might be a good idea for the city to grade the sidewalks first, so that the work would be permanent when done. After some discussion it was decided to do the grading and then require the property owners to put down the sidewalks. The south side of Market street, between Fifth and Sixth, will also be graded and the property holders required to lay sidewalks there.

Councilman Jones reported that property holders on the northeast and northwest corners of Fourth and Red Cross and also at Fifth and Red Cross had been notified to put down improved sidewalks, but had not complied. The chief of police was instructed to see that the walks are put down.

Councilman Merritt reported that according to an estimate made by the city engineer last February, it would cost $360 to improve Third street, between Brunswick and Hanover, with clay gravel, 18 feet wide. No action was taken on the matter.

A communication was received from the Board of Health asking that Council authorize the board to purchase a motorcycle for the use of the sanitary police in their work throughout the county. Council was of the opinion that the machine was needed, and voted to allow the Health Board to make the purchase from money on hand. The Board of County Commissioners will also be asked to approve the purchase.

The communication from the State Board of Health, with reference to the matter of moving the intake of the local water supply, or making some change in the disposal of the sewage, which was printed in yesterday's issue, was read.

Councilman Chas. C. Loughlin, in charge of the department of water and sewerage, reported that the city engineer had been busy making a survey to gather the necessary data relative to moving the intake to the northwest branch of the Cape Fear above Navassa, and to determine the cost of the project. Also that the laboratory director had been making the necessary bacteriological survey, and that both reports would be completed within the next few weeks, when the city would have all the necessary facts about the proposed change.

Pending the completion of these facts, the clerk was instructed to write the State Board of Health and notify the body that the data is now being gathered and compiled, and that it would be forwarded within a few weeks.

Councilman Wood said that he had been expecting some such action on the part of the Board of Health for some time, and was glad to see it. However, he thought it a mistake to make the survey until it had been definitely decided that the Northwest branch site was the proper place. He did not want to see any more mistakes made, and thought the State Board of Health should send a man here to select a proper place for the new intake. He was afraid the contemplated site was too close to Navassa.

City Attorney Bryan, however, thought that the city was acting along the right lines in gathering its data now, and Councilman Loughlin also thought that the proper method of proceeding was to compile all the necessary data about the site under consideration and forward it to the State Board of Health for its approval.

Capt. T. D. Meares, city clerk and treasurer, asked leave of absence for several weeks in August, and Council voted to grant his request. The meeting then adjourned.

CHINESE FIREMAN DROWNS

Was Swimming Across River From British Steamer Kylestrome—Body Not Recovered.

A Chinese fireman on the British steamer Kylestrome, arriving in port yesterday, lost his life by drowning in the Cape Fear, off the steamer Dublin's wharf, between Princess and Chestnut streets, last evening at 6:45 o'clock, when he plunged overboard in an overheated condition from his vessel at the dock of the Acme Tea Chest Company, and attempted to swim across the stream against a strong outgoing tide. When within 30 feet of the east side of the river, he was seen to weaken and call for help, but before boats putting out to his aid could reach him he had gone under. His body has not been recovered.

The man's name could not be learned last night. He was listed on the Kylestrome's books as Fireman No. One. There is no Chinese consul here, but the captain of the Kylestrome will make an official report of the drowning to the British Vice-Consul here this morning, and also to the customs house officials.

The Kylestrome, a large British steamer, Captain Muir in charge, came into port yesterday afternoon from Mobile, to take on a cargo from the Acme Tea Chest Company.

Shortly after the vessel had tied up at the company's dock, the Chinese fireman decided to take a swim. He told some of his Chinese companions on the ship that he was going to swim across the river, and, plunging overboard he struck out against the outgoing tide. He appeared to be a strong swimmer, and was making good headway against the current until he almost reached the opposite side of the stream.

Suddenly he seemed to weaken and a number of spectators on the east side of the river heard him call for help.

Messrs. J. W. Meshaw and J. H. Litgen, members of the fire department, stationed on the fire boat Atlantic, noticed his plight, and Mr. Meshaw, being nearest to him, put out to his aid in a skiff. The tug Topaz, of the D. McEachern Company, coming down the river, also swerved in to pick up the unfortunate man, and Mr. S. Frank Garrison started to go to the man in one of the boats of the firm of T. F. Wood, Inc.

However, before any of them could reach him, the unfortunate man sank, and did not come to the surface again. Mr. Meshaw, in the skiff, and the Topaz passed over the spot where he sank and noticed the bubbles rising to the surface, but could see nothing of the drowning man.

An effort will probably be made this morning to recover the body, though the probability is that it has been carried down the river some distance by the falling tide.

GOVERNMENT TUG NEPTUNE.

Trim Little Vessel Puts In Here for Repairs After Bad Weather.

Having sustained damage to her decks while weathering a bad blow off Hatteras, the government tug Neptune, in charge of Captain Bradley, put in here yesterday for repairs. She is en route from New York to New Orleans and will be in this port for several days.

The Neptune goes to New Orleans to aid in the fumigation of out-going vessels from that port to rid them of rats and bubonic plague infection. Sulphur fumes are generated aboard the little vessel and are forced into the hold of the steamers by the engines of the Neptune through a long canvass tube.

The damage sustained by the Neptune was not serious, but it was thought best to get the vessel in good condition before completing the voyage.

The officiating minister was Rev. J. S. Crowley, pastor of Immanuel Presbyterian church. There were only a few intimate friends of the bride and groom present.

Mr. Knowles is in the grocery business on Surry street and is a most promising young man. Mrs. Thomas has many friends in the city. They will reside at No. 516 South Sixth street.

MELONS MOVING RAPIDLY

Cantaloupe Season Is Now at Its Height—Bulk of Movement This Week—Good Crop.

The season for cantaloupes is now at its height and the bulk of the movement from this section will be completed this week. The grade and quality is most excellent and the yield per acre is good. The acreage this year is slightly less than last, but the yield will be practically the same. The dry weather proved to be an advantage, not only developing a finer grade of melon, but also helping to produce a hardier plant. While the shipments will begin to decrease after this week the movement will continue until August.

Following the cantaloupes will come the watermelons. There are very few of these on the local market as yet. Usually there are many melons on the market by July 4th, but the dry weather this year seems to have delayed the crop. Shipments to the Northern markets will begin next week and continue for several weeks.

The following resume of the cantaloupe and vegetable movement is from the Carolina Fruit and Truckers Journal, of this city:

"Vegetable crop movements continue on a lively oasis from all this section and as rapidly as one crop is exhausted there is another to come along and take its place. Potatoes are fast cleaning up and the crop is all the way from 25 to 40 per cent short. Prices, however, have ruled more or less satisfactory, the general range of values being all the way from $3.50 to $4.00 and $4.50 per barrel for number ones. This has in part made up for the shortage in output. Huckleberries have been rolling freely during the past two or three weeks, in both express and solid car shipments, commanding good prices. Green corn, peaches, cukes, peppers, and other standard vegetables are going forward now in liberal quantities, while cantaloupes started in this week in car lots, the express movement having begun last week.

"Cantaloupes in fact are today holding the center of the stage and will be the star actor in the fruit and vegetable drama for some time to come—at least during the month of July. Watermelons will then follow and hold the boards until the fall crop of vegetables begin to move. The grade and quality of this year's cantaloupe crop is the "finest ever." This is the information we get from points along the W. & W. railroad as well as in the Laurinburg-Maxton territory, the two heaviest cantaloupe districts in the two Carolinas. Indeed, the flavor of the fruit is simply superb this year, while the sizes are more uniform than we have ever seen them before. Several hundred carloads will move from these sections, under refrigeration and by express and the same is true of watermelons. Over in South Carolina the cantaloupe crop has panned out splendidly thus far, the movement over there having begun several days ago and will see its finish this week, at about which time watermelons will be going forward in solid car movement on a heavy scale."

DR. G. H. ATKINSON HERE.

President of Albemarle School at the First Presbyterian Last Night.

Dr. Geo. H. Atkinson, president of the Albemarle Industrial Institute for girls, located at Albemarle ,in Stanly county, made an interesting talk about the work of the school at the regular mid-week prayer meeting service of the First Presbyterian church last night. Dr. Atkinson is a most eloquent and talented speaker and is deeply interested in carrying forward the great work which he has undertaken. He has visited Wilmington before in the interest of this school, which is a Presbyterian institution, and has many friends here who are glad to greet him again. They are also glad to know that the school is prospering and that its usefulness is increasing.

Dr. Atkinson will speak at Immanuel Presbyterian church Friday evening. This is a preparatory service for the celebration of the Lord's Supper Sunday morning, and it is especially desired that all of the members of the church attend, if possible. A cordial invitation is also extended the public to attend.

FOREST FIRE RAGING.

Woods in Masonboro Section Aflame Last Night—Some Damage.

Below Hewlett's Creek, on the Masonoboro road, in the county, yesterday afternoon and last night a forest fire was raging, and fanned by the strong breeze, was covering much area. Seen from the city last night, against a background of clouds and smoke in that direction, the flames presented a lurid reflection, and many people who called up during the night were certain that a fire of considerable proportions was raging at the beach, or some other unusual pyrotechnics were going on down that way.

The fire yesterday afternoon was to the west of the Masonboro road, back of the place of Mr. M. F. Beasley, about seven miles from the city on Masonboro Sound. A small house belonging to a colored woman was reported burned yesterday afternoon, and a large area of woods land burned over. The fire at one time threatened the sawmill of Mr. Herbert Stelljes, in that section, but precautions were taken by back-firing, and the mill was saved.

HANOVER INN SOLD.

Mrs. W. L. Wall Purchased Beach Hostelry at Public Sale Yesterday.

The Hanover Inn, one of the most popular hotels on Wrightsville Beach, was sold yesterday at public auction to Mrs. W. L. Wall, one of the lessees, for $9,000. Mrs. Wall, who is associated with Miss Dissoway in the management of the hotel this season, will occupy the building each summer in the future. The sale was made to satisfy certain indebtedness against the property.

The Wrightsville Realty Company were the former owners of the hotel. Mr. Thos. H. Wright conducted the sale yesterday from the steps of the hotel and Mrs. Wall was the highest bidder.

Since Mrs. Wall and Miss Dissoway have had charge of the hostelry they have made a decided success of the business. They have given it the closest attention and have enjoyed a splendid patronage.

TRY CASES IN ADMIRALTY

Federal Court Devotes Entire Day to Trial of Suit Against Tug for Alleged Damages.

Practically the entire day yesterday in Federal Court was taken up with hearing the evidence and the argument of counsel in the case of D. McEachern and others against the owners of the steam tug Protector for alleged damages as a result of a collision on the Cape Fear river last winter when the launch Topaz and a barge in tow were struck by the Protector. Only one other case in admiralty remains to be tried, this being that of Bellamy Harriss against the barkentine Kremlin for a small amount alleged to be due for stevedoring.

Only cases in equity and admiralty are to be tried at this term of court and Judge Connor, who is presiding, will return to his home at Wilson this afternoon.

The case of Moses King, colored, against the Hall Towing Co., was concluded yesterday morning. Judgment was rendered against the defendant for $55 and the court costs. The plaintiff was suing for $165, amount alleged to be due for a damage to a small boat. The defendant and the plaintiff were each required to pay their own witnesses. B. G. Empie, Esq., appeared for the plaintiff and Robert Ruark, Esq., for the defendant.

John D. Bellamy & Son represent the plaintiff in the case of D. McEachern and others against the owners of the tug Protector, while Robert Ruark, Esq., appears for the defendant.

The cases now being tried are of little public interest and there has been no one in attendance except those having business in court. The division of the work of the Federal courts here with more frequent terms will serve to secure much speedier trial of cases than under the old arrangement. It was the purpose of Judge Connor in making a change from the former method to make the court of more direct service to the people. He is following this method at all the cities in his district, where the business is sufficient to justify it.

MILLS LAD GETS TWO YEARS.

Youthful Robbers Sentenced Tuesday in Wake Superior Court.

The following from yesterday's Raleigh News and Observer will be of interest here, this being the home of Franklin Mills, one of the boys sentenced to two years in the State penitentiary for robbery:

"Fulton Lowery and Franklin Mills, wholesale robbers who escaped from Stonewall Jackson Training school and followed it with a career of daring crime a few weeks, will serve two years each in the State penitentiary.

"They pleaded guilty yesterday in Judge Bond's court and he sentenced them to two years each. Judge Bond was urged to clemency by ex-Governor W. W. Kitchin, Walter Cohoon, of Elizabeth City; W. P. Stacy, of Wilmington, and Col. J. C. L. Harris, of Raleigh. Judge Bond could not see any escape for them. They had been given a rare chance. They had forged and stolen and received. But they ran off.

"'If you boys die in the electric chair after you have served your terms, it will be your fault,' Judge Bond commented. Mrs. Mills sat with her derelict, who, at 15 bears an alias, John Henderson, and did her best to comfort him. She sobbed under the sentence and so did he. It was his first emotion.

"They had stolen on grand scale. They carried to Norfolk about $700 worth of goods taken from Mahlers. There were other losers, Thomas H. Briggs and Sons, Boylan-Pearce, Raleigh Motor Car & Machine Company, but only the Mahler wares were shown. They had not had time to sell any of it."

Mrs. Mattie Mills, mother of young Franklin Mills, who attended the trial of her son, returned to the city yesterday.

INVESTIGATE TRAGEDY.

Coroner's Jury Finds That Everett Brice Shot and Killed Self.

After examining a half dozen or more witnesses, the jury empanelled by Coroner John J. Fowler to investigate the death of Everett Brice on Tuesday evening, when he shot his wife and then killed himself, returned a verdict yesterday stating that he came to his death by intentionally shooting himself. The members of the jury were Messrs. W. H. Kermon, foreman; H. E. Walton, secretary; T. P. Myers, R. B. Biddle, George Vernon and W. B. Crumpler.

Brice's wife, who was shot by him through the left shoulder and also suffered a slight scalp wound, was taken from the James Walker Memorial Hospital, where she was carried soon after the sad tragedy for treatment, to her home on Church street yesterday afternoon. Her wounds are not serious and she will soon be well. From the evidence brought out yesterday it was clearly shown that Brice intended to kill her.

Mr. C. T. Brice ,a brother of the deceased man, arrived in the city yesterday. The body was taken to Watha, his old home, last night, and the funeral will take place there today.

Street Department Employes Will Have Outing at Carolina Beach.

The employes of the City Street Department, who have worked so faithfully and efficiently during the year, have been given permission by Councilman B. A. This will be the first excursion that this department has ever had and the members of the force are looking forward to it with great pleasure. ECZEMA ITCHED FOR 20 YEARS—RESINOL CURED

Dec. 8, 1913: "I had eczema for 20 years. It started on me when I was but 13 years old and am now 34, and have suffered all these years. It started with small pimples all over my face, arms and hands. My hands would swell up so that I could not shut them, and I was almost blind. It would itch, then burn, and I had to keep the affected parts wrapped up so that I would not scratch them. I couldn't sleep at all—just walked the floor a whole night.

"I have tried many different remedies, and spent a large sum of money, but had no relief. Resinol Soap and Resinol Ointment were recommended to me. They gave me great relief after the third application, and after using four jars of Resinol Ointment and three cakes of Resinol Soap, I am completely cured." (Signed) Mrs. H. E. Fleager, Box 13, Dauphin, Pa.

Resinol Ointment and Resinol Soap sold by all druggists for 10 years.

Tonight's movie bill at the South's most famous pavilion is headed by a mammoth Edison two-reel drama, "Within the Enemy's Line." This is one of the notable Edison productions of the year, and has been the source of genuine amazement at its fine execution, wherever it has been shown. It's full of thrills, not a dull moment from beginning to end, and will no doubt make the same hit at Lumina that it has scored elsewhere.

"A Scandinavian Scandal" is a rousing comedy number that brings the total for tonight's bill up to three reels.

On Monday and Tuesday evenings of next week another novel dancing contest will be given at Lumina. It will be a one-step contest between States, and will extend over two evenings. The preliminary contest will be danced Monday night, and from those entering those to compete in the finals Tuesday evening will be selected. Dancers from the different States will wear some ribbon or badge to indicate their State. A handsome cup will be given as a prize to the winning couple. Don Richardson will manage the contest. North and South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama and possibly other States are expected to be well represented in the contest.

Included in the arrivals at the Seashore Hotel yesterday were Barnes Compton, Baltimore, Md.; T. T. Adams, Norfolk; Frank D. Clement, Brevard; Dr. Edward M. Coleman, Athens, Ga.; Mr. and Mrs. B. F. After a most delightful stay of ten days at the Oceanic Hotel, representatives of the Southeastern Life Insurance Company, of Greenville, S. C., left Tuesday afternoon for their homes. There were about 20 men in the party and Manager Hooper states that in his 22 years of hotel experience he has never entertained a finer set of men. Before leaving they gathered in the lobby and gave three cheers for "Charlie" Hooper, and then three more cheers for everybody else connected with the hotel. The insurance men expect to return next year for their annual outing.

Dr. A. S. Mitchell, of Winston-Salem, the newly elected president of the North Carolina Optical Society, had a narrow escape from drowning while bathing in the surf at the Seashore Hotel Tuesday afternoon He had gone out some distance, though not too far to be safe, when he was seized with cramp in both legs and one arm. He struggled to reach the shore but was gradually borne down the beach towards the Oceanic Hotel. He called for help and the life boat and several strong swimmers went to his rescue. He was completely exhausted and was confined to his room at the Seashore Hotel yesterday. Accompanied by Mr. C. H. Hones, of Asheville, the retiring president of the society, he left last night on the 6:45 train for his home.

SON OF W. A. ERWIN, OF DURHAM, IS ARRESED.

Ran Down and Seriously Injured Child With Automobile

(Special Star Telegram.)

Durham, N. C., July 15.—William Erwin, the 16-year-old son of Mr. W. A. Erwin, West Durham, was placed under arrest this afternoon in connection with the injury of Thomas Coghill, who was run down by an automobile being driven by young Erwin this afternoon. The accident happened in front of the Trust building and was witnessed by a large number of people, who are not agreed as to the responsibility.

Some of the witnesses say that the little boy was coming across the street, and walked directly in front of the approaching car, which was exceeding the speed limit for the fire district. Others say Erwin was not running so very fast and that he stopped the car in the minimum space after he saw the accident was impending.

The only thing which saved the boy's life was the fact the fender of the car hit the little fellow under the chin and threw him from the direct path of the car. As it was, one leg was broken, several teeth knocked out, and he was otherwise bruised about the body. The extent of the internal injuries, if any, has not been determined.

The injured child was rushed to a physician's office where he was treated. Mr. Erwin, or some of the occupants of his car, sent for the mother, Mrs. Sarah Coghill, who lives on Rigsbee avenue. The technical charge on which the son of the cotton mill magnate was arrested was that of assault. Of course the warrant will be changed should the child die, but at this time it is thought it will recover.

The young man is quoted as saying that he blew his horn when the boy started to cross the street, and that he was not going at a very rapid rate of speed. He thought the child would get out of the way of the car.

Other witnesses say that Erwin did not blow his horn, and that they knew nothing of the approaching car till the little boy fell in a crumpled heap in the middle of the street where he was knocked by the rushing car. At the time of the accident the car was occupied by Mrs. W. A. Erwin, mother of the boy who was doing the driving; Mrs. J. C. Michie and Misses Sarah and Bessie Erwin.

Mount Olive Aldermen Called Upon to Deal With A. C. L.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Mount Olive, N. C., July 15.—At a recent meeting of the Chamber of Commerce here, strong resolutions were passed, calling upon the board of aldermen to take up with the officials of the Coast Line at once the question of installing automatic crossing guards for two of the principal streets, or the placing of a watchman at each of these crossings.

Repeated efforts have been made to induce the Coast Line to remove all side tracks from the main business part of Railroad street, but without avail; and, inasmuch as they will not remove these side tracks, it is thought that the next safest thing to do will be to have the crossings protected by automatic gates or watchmen.

A Home Recipe for Wrinkled, Saggy Skin

The famous saxolite lotion recommended by beauty specialists for removing wrinkles and for reducing distended pores, can be easily made at home. Ask your druggist for saxolite in powdered form, 1 oz. and ½ pt. witch hazel. Dissolve the powder in the witch hazel and bathe the face, neck and hands in the solution. Results are remarkable, and instantaneous. The skin tightens, and this naturally reduces the wrinkles, as well as creases or folds about the neck, cheeks or hands. The tissue beneath the skin also becomes firmer and more solid.

One feels much refreshed and exhilarated after using this truly wonderful and harmless wash lotion. Its continued use once a day for only a short time makes the average person look ten or fifteen years younger.

DECLINE IN PRICE OF COTTON

Follows Early Advance Brought on by Reports of Continued Dry Weather in Belt.

New York, July 15.—Records of continued dry weather caused a higher opening in today's cotton market, but later weakened on general selling with the close steady at a net decline of 10 to 15 points. December contracts which sold at 12.53 during the early trading broke to 12.31 or about 22 points and closing prices were at practically the low point of the day.

Private cables attributed the relatively steady showing of Liverpool to continental buying on Texas crop apprehensions. After opening at an advance of 1 to 4 points, the local market sold about 8 to 10 points higher on a renewal of yesterday's covering movement and bull support. Private advices from the southwest indicating the highest temperatures of the season, were accompanied by moderate buying orders, while there was also considerable support from eastern belt sources and from Liverpool Offerings increased just above 12 1-2 cents for December, however, and there seemed quite a general disposition to take profits following the official forecast for lower temperatures in Oklahoma. Prices began to sag off in consequence and when it was seen that the detailed weather for the Houston district confirming early weather advices was failing to inspire any fresh demand of consequence, offerings became more general. Weakness in the stock market may have been partly responsible for the heavy Wall Street selling, while the good weather reported east of the river with rains in sections of Mississippi and Tennessee which have recently complained of drought combined with some private predictions for rain within the next day or two in south-Texas, doubtless added to the aggressiveness of local selling. Some of the scattered buying on the decline was attributed to trade interest.

Cotton futures closed steady.

UNSETTLEMENT IN STOCKS

At Times Market Verged Upon Demoralization—New Haven Again the Storm Center.

New York, July 15.—Unsettlement, which at times verged upon demoralization, overtook today's stock market. New Haven was again the storm center, declining 5 3-5 points on steady offerings, individually small, but in the aggregate large enough to make that stock the most active of the day.

The nature of the selling and the fact that much of it emanated from Boston and other New England points suggested further liquidation on the part of small shareholders who had become discouraged as a result of the findings of the Inter-State Commerce Commission. New Haven 6s dropped 6 1-2s points and the 4 1-2s of the New York, Westchester & Boston, under New Haven's guarantee, were again weak with a loss of two points.

Virtually the only issue that manifested pronounced resistance was Union Pacific which made a substantial initial gain on the decision of the court upholding the disbursement of the "extra dividend" to common shareholders For the same reason Baltimore & Ohio common and preferred which constituted the bulk of the Union Pacific dividend, were weak.

Canadian Pacific was again under the fire of foreign selling, declining to its lowest price in many years. This stock and other of the market leaders were sold by London and the continent to the extent of about 40,000 shares.

It was not until the latter part of the day that the general recession set in, beginning with New York Central, which recorded its lowest price in years.

The bond market reflected the weakness in stocks, with new low records for a few speculative issues. Total sales par value $2,025,000.

U. S. government bonds were unchanged on call.

HUERTA RESIGNS; GARBAJAL PRESIDENT

form. Speaker Manuel Mercado then administered the oath.

Two deputies spoke against the acceptance of Huerta's resignation. One calling it "weak submission to the United States."

Two other deputies spoke and declared it was the only sane course to pursue.

Arrange for Peace.

Gen. Aureliano Blanquez, Huerta's minister of war, several other generals as well as high officials of the former administration, left the capital late today. A special committee composed of Jesus Huerta, Enrique Bordes Mangel and Jose Ines Novelo, former members of the chamber of deputies, left tonight for Celaya to arrange with the Constitutionalist leaders for a peaceful entry into the capital.

It was reported tonight that Gen. Huerta was preparing to leave for Europe. Members of his family passed through Coroba late today on the way to Puerto Mexico.

The streets of the capital were crowded until a late hour tonight but no disturbance has been reported. The governor of the Federal District ordered the police to check any demonstration. The streets are patrolled by mounted police who have orders to use drastic measures if necessary.

In Office Over a Year.

Victoriano Huerta took oath as provisional President of Mexico February 19, 1913, the day after Francisco I. Madero had been arrested at the National Palace. Three days later Madero and Jose Maria Pino Suarez, vice-president, were shot to death on a midnight ride, under guard, from the palace to the penitentiary.

The manner of their deaths never has been satisfactorily explained.

One of Huerta's first acts as President was to telegraph William H. Taft, then President of the United States, the following message:

"I have the honor to inform you that I have overthrown this government. The forces are with me, and from now on peace and prosperity will reign."

The republic was plunged into civil war again immediately, notwithstanding Huerta's issuance of a proclamation of general amnesty. The Sonora State Congress officially repudiated the provisional government before Huerta had settled himself comfortably in the Presidential chair. Zapata, revolutionary leader to the south of the capital, after negotiating a few days with the new regime, went back to his guerilla campaign.

Denounced Huerta.

Salazar, one of the highest generals in the army, denounced Huerta. Carranza, Constitutionalist leader in Chihuahua, assailed him in a bitter statement, made public at San Antonio.

Francisco Villa announced himself an adherent of Madero, and joined the ranks of the northern army. Pascualo Orozco, of the clan of the northern revolutionaries, was the lone notable figure among the disaffected who declared for the new government.

President Taft left to his successor, the duty of adjusting diplomatic relations with Mexico. To Woodrow Wilson, Huerta sent felicitations on the day of the American President's inauguration.

Hampered at the outset of his administration by the refusal of the United States to recognize him, Huerta soon faced growing difficulties in raising funds to run his government. His uneasy hold upon affairs was weakened by minor Constitutionalist victories in the north and by recurring rumors of a break with Felix Diaz, nephew of Porfirio Diaz, and Huerta's ally in the overthrow of Madero.

On May 1st Huerta announced he would urge Congress to call an election in October to choose his successor. The Congress selected October 26th as the date of the election and a decree to that effect was issued by Huerta on June 3rd.

Felix Diaz, who had announced himself as a candidate for the presidency, was sent to Japan on July 17.

Henry Lane Wilson, the American ambassador, was recalled to Washington and Nelson O'Shaughnessy, charge d'affaires, was left in charge of the American interests in Mexico.

Sent Lind to Mexico.

It soon afterward became known that President Wilson intended to send John Lind to Mexico in an endeavor to arrange a basis for peace.

Huerta announced he would not tolerate interference.

Huerta rejected all proposals made by the American government, chief of which were the suggestion that he resign and that he not be a candidate on election day. President Wilson proclaimed his policy in an address before Congress to which was attached correspondence between Mr. Lind and the Huerta administration.

Huerta was attacked in the Mexican Senate on October 5th by Senator Dominguez who spoke what was in the minds of himself and some of his colleagues. Dominguez disappeared. The chamber of deputies adopted a resolution calling for an investigation.

To this Huerta's reply was dramatic and swift. He marched a column of troops to the chamber of deputies and threw 110 deputies into prison. Next he dissolved Congress and took unto himself the legislative authority, calling for an election of new members on October 5th. Through Mr. O'Shaughnessy, the United States made representations against violence to the imprisoned deputies.

When it became certain the elections had resulted in no Constitutional choice because of the failure of voters to go to the polls the American government peremptorily called on Huerta to resign. In a statement to the diplomatic corps Huerta declared he would announce the result of the election null and order another election.

Huerta Refused to Resign.

On November 12th Huerta refused to accede to the American demand for his resignation and John Lind left Mexico City for Vera Cruz.

Meantime the United States dispatched warships to the Mexican coast and Americans continued to leave Mexico.

Definite proposals were made by the United States to Carranza and his adherents.

Several of the European powers, notably Great Britain, Germany and France, supported the policy of the United States. The Constitutionalists continued their advance to the south. They captured several cities.

The situation became so critical that Great Britain, Germany, France, Spain and Japan ordered warships to Mexican waters.

Fighting continued at Tampico and many other centers and the Constitutionalists took Torreon.

An embargo placed on the exportation of arms from the United States to Mexico was raised early in February last.

American troops were placed on the Mexican border and the American fleet in Mexican waters was strengthened.

The Constitutionalists captured Monterey.

Then came the departure of John Lind from Vera Cruz and the arrest of a party of American bluejackets at Tampico, for which an apology and salute were demanded by the United States and refused by Huerta.

On April 21st bluejackets and marines were landed and occupied Vera Cruz in consequence of the reported arrival of a large consignment of arms and ammunition for Huerta. A number of Americans were killed in the street fighting. The Mexicans retired and destroyed a portion of the railway.

Shortly afterward a mediation proposal received from Argentina, Brazil and Chile was accepted and a conference ensued at Niagara Falls.

In the interval American troops relieved the bluejackets at Vera Cruz and since have remained in occupation of the port.

Tampico and Zacatecas fell in the hands of the Constitutionalists and the victorious armies continued their march on Mexico City where rumors have been in circulation for many weeks of the approaching resignation of Huerta.

Leaves for Coast.

Wasnington, July 15.—Rear Admiral Badger tonight reported to the Navy Department that reports reaching Vera Cruz said General Huerta and General Blanquet would "leave Mexico City by train under escort." There was no mention of destination, but officials here think the retired dictator will go to Puerto Mexico to board a foreign man of war for Europe.

Admiral Badger also announced that the British cruisers Hermoin and Bristol sailed from Vera Cruz for Puerto Mexico at 6 o'clock tonight. Earlier in the day the Dutch cruiser Kortenar, whose commande went to Mexico City several days ago, started for the same port.

Wishes He Had Remained.

Juarez, Mexico, July 15.—"I would much rather preferred that Huerta remain in the presidential chair or in Mexico City until we could get our hands on him," General Villa said today when he learned of Huerta's resignation.

"That is the only comment I care to make," he added. "I am a soldier and do not care to express my opinion of the traitor's resignation."

A military band played martial airs outside Villa's headquarters as the news of Huerta's resignation was spread about. Villa probably will remain at the border for several days.

Villa tonight thought troops of all divisions will be represented at Mexico City in a triumphal entry.

With the Rebels in West.

On Board U. S. S. California, Mazatlan, Mexico, July 14.—(Via San Diego, July 15.)—Evacuation of Guayamas by the Mexican Federal forces was begun today with the arrival of the steamer Benito Juarez, according to reports made to Rear Admiral Howard. The first step preliminary to the general exodus of Federals began with the embarking of horses and cattle.

Conferences between Federal and Constitutionalist generals at Guayamas relative to exchange of prisoners continued throughout the day and negotiations practically have been completed, the Federal commander reserving the right to certain exceptions, when the transfers are made.

The California and the destroyer Preble departed today for La Paz, Lower California, where the Federals and insurgents are expected to agree on the joint support of Carranza.

Colonel Gomez, a Zapatista officer, who has taken charge of Acapulco in the Constitutionalists' name, has promised protection to all foreigners.

SUFFRAGETTES ATTACK THOMAS McKENNON WOOD.

Secretary of State for Scotland Gets Bad Treatment From Woman.

London, July 15.—Half a dozen policemen were required today to remove from the Marlborough Street police court two kicking, clawing, screaming suffragettes, who earlier in the day had attempted to horsewhip the Right Honorable Thomas McKinnon Wood, secretary of state for Scotland. But for the intervention of his butler, it is probable the secretary would have been soundly thrashed.

The secretary was leaving his residence when a woman rushed up, horse whip in hand, exclaiming:

"You Scotland pig; if you don't stop the forcible feeding of women, we will smash you."

The militant lashed him across the chest, but before she could deliver a second cut the butler standing on the steps threw her to the ground. He then tackled a second woman, who was shouting:

"Let me get at the Scotland pig."

Both women were taken to the police station where they were searched. On one was found a decomposed egg, labelled: "Refreshing fruit."

In the court the women were fined pay and were sent to jail for four twenty shillings each but refused to days.

ELKS IN ANNUAL SESSION DRAW NEAR TO CLOSE.

Convention in Denver Has Been Great Success—Objections.

Denver, Colo., July 15.—The Grand Lodge of Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, in golden jubilee session here with the annual national reunion of the order completed most of its work today. A final session will be held tomorrow.

The grand lodge decided to recognize the State reunion of associations of Elks; refused to provide for publication of a National Elks journal, and condemned the use of the National anthem for advertising purposes.

Southern delegates protested against being penalized for the negro population of Southern cities. The grand lodge rescinded its action of a year ago and reinstated 5,000 population as a requisite for a lodge dispensation, stipulating, however, "5,000 white" population. The subject will come up again tomorrow.

STORM UNEARTHS 12 CORPSES.

Drowns Boy and Wrecks Telephone System of Raleigh.

Raleigh, N. C., July 15.—In the cloudburst here yesterday that washed from their burial places 12 corpses in the city cemetery, flooded the railway station and drove the passengers to the tops of the benches, Willie Williamston, 13 years old, was drowned by being washed through a big drain pipe.

The boy was caught while trying to remove litter from the manhole. He was washed 900 feet underground and came out with all clothes torn from him.

The storm wrecked whole telephone exchanges, killed many animals and destroyed crops throughout the inner section.

SUDDEN CHANGE IN SALISBURY POSTOFFICE

popular one ever made by Senator Overman.

In addition to being a staunch Democrat, Colonel Boyden is a high-class gentleman and his thousands of friends throughout the State will rejoice at this recognition of a progressive Wilson Democrat. It is understood that Colonel Boyden did not ask for the Salisbury postmastership. Indeed it is doubted if he has yet told Senator Overman that he would accept the place. It is believed, however, that he will accept. The job pays $2,400 a year.

Lewis Gilliam Lands.

Senator Overman has secured the appointment of Lewis Gilliam, of Tarboro, as disbursing agent and surveyor for the Mexican Boundary Commission. The position pays $1,800 and expenses.

John Armstrong, of Wilmington, now in the consular service, has been promoted to the position of consulate at Bristol, England. It is a good job and ranks with the first consular places in importance and salary.

Representative Page appeared before the judiciary committee today to urge that sessions of the Federal court be held at Laurinburg. It is believed that his request will be granted. P. R. A.

ON COMPLAINT OF TWO WOMEN.

E. D. Price, White Man, is in Jail at Kinston.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Kinston, N. C., July 14.—E. D. Price, a white man, is in jail here upon the complaint of Mrs. Charles Waller, a young matron of West King street, and her mother, Mrs. Moore, with whom Mrs. Waller resides. Price was a boarder in the home. Sunday morning about 3 o'clock Mrs. Waller was aroused by a noise in her room. Price was kneeling by her bed. She ordered him to leave, and an infant by her side commenced crying. Price left the room, and Mrs. Waller barred the door. Three times during the night following his entrance Price made attempts to get into the woman's room.

She decided not to take action against the man, until Sunday afternoon Price, who was drinking, it is said, attacked Mrs. Moore. It is alleged that he playfully spanked the elder woman. Mrs. Moore called a policeman. A magistrate committed Price, who is unable to give bond in the sum of $500. Mrs. Waller's husband is an inmate of an insane asylum.

NEWBERN TO SEND HER FOUR HOSE WAGON TEAMS

To Participate in State Firemen's Tournament at Winston-Salem.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Newbern, N. C., July 15.—Newbern will send four hose wagon teams to Winston-Salem next month to attend and participate in the State Firemen's Tournament, and these teams will this week begin to get in trim for the races. The four teams which will go to Winston are the Atlantics, "Buttons," Riverside and Fourth Ward. In the past, each one of these have made excellent records, and have won many prizes, and they expect to repeat their past performances.

Newbern is also to ask for the next tournament, and there is every reason to believe that this will be secured.

The members of the local companies are now planning to get up the prize money, and it is expected that a large sum than has ever before been offered in this State will be put up as an inducement to the fire fighters to come here in 1915.

ARRESTED FOR MURDER.

Trained Nurse Said to Have Poisoned Her Companion for Insurance.

San Jose, Cal., July 15.—Eva J. Rinehart, a nurse, was arrested here today charged with having killed her companion and partner, Mrs. Kathleen Bluett, to collect her life insurance.

The two women conducted a hospital in Auburn, Placer county. Last January, while disinfecting clothing Mrs. Bluett suffered burns and died. Shortly before that she had taken out three life insurance policies aggregatting $15,000. The will named Miss Rinehart as sole heir. Miss Rinehart took the body to Reno for burial, although Mrs. Bluett's relatives lived in Alameda, Cal. They did not learn of the death until three months later.

At the instigation of the insurance companies the body was exhumed, the brain and viscera were taken to San Francisco for chemical analysis as to poison, and a warrant for Miss Rinehart was sworn out in Auburn.

ON CHARGE OF BIGAMY.

Lonnie Williams is Held In Jail at Kinston.

(Special Star Correspondence.)

Kinston, N. C., July 15.—Lonnie Williams, white, is being held here on a charge of bigamy. The sheriff of Hertford county, N. C., notified the authorities here that Williams, wanted there for adultery, had a living wife in Tarboro. Investigation verified the statement, and when an officer went to Williams' home in East Kinston they found another wife.

He had married Mrs. Williams, No. 2, a nice-looking girl, here in the Spring. Williams was en route to Virginia. The police at Weldon were notified to look out for him, and within 15 minutes from the time that the Hertford sheriff's letter was received word was had from Weldon that Williams was under arrest. He was taken from a northbound train which arrived almost as soon as the request to arrest him. He cannot give the required $500 bond.

Washington, July 15.—The government's old claim of some $3,000,000 for bond aid for 100 miles of railroad between Atchison and Waterville, Kas., now owned by the Missouri Pacific, is being prepared by the government for action by the Department of Justice.

Tango Music Calls Lassies From Work

REFUSE TO WORK WHILE STEAM CALIOPE'S ON EXCURSION STEAMERS PLAY.

Burlington, Iowa, July 15.—When the caliopes on the excursion steamers play tango music the 200 girls employed at the Mississippi Pearl Button Company here refuse to work.

This is the basis for an injunction filed today by Moir brothers to restrain calliope music on steamers during working hours. The plaintiffs also seek $500 damages for loss of the services of young women employes.
